Verdes Estates, when he found the lad wandering about the hills without any apparent purpose. Upon being fingerprinted by Deputy Kiracofe, it was found that the prints coincided with those taken from the stone tower house in Palos Verdes which had been burglarized some time ago. Upon cross examination, Morgan confessed, according to Deputy Kiracofe in order to protect a "girl" friend. However, it was stated that the girl had had no part in the house-breaking.

A slender, pale-faced youth with clear eyes and clean-cut appearance, Morgan presented a pitiful sight as he sat handcuffed in Judge Dennis' office awaiting arraignment. He sat alone without friend or relative. A mother, who had adopted him, died three years ago and he has no other relatives, the lad told newspapermen.

Credit for the arrest of the lad is due to the tireless efforts of Deputy S. W. Kiracofe and Officer Woosley.

Officials of Farm Bureau At Gardena

Several officials of the county farm bureau spoke at a meeting of district committee representatives held at Gardena on Thursday evening, March 1. Plans for the extension of farm bureau activities in various localities were the principal topic of discussion, with increase in producer membership stressed as the most important factor in this extension. Representatives from Hawthorne, Lennox, Gardena, Inglewood and Lomita were among those present. Lomita was represented by R. H. Stephenson, whose property on Hillworth avenue is one of the model small farm homes in this district.

Minor Changes Made In Text of Fire Ordinance
No protest was voiced by representatives of oil companies against the proposed ordinance providing for fire prevention and protection in oil fields, which advanced to the second reading for the original and first reading for amendments before the city council on Tuesday night.

Amendments were inserted in a few sections to clarify the text, but no changes were made in the major provisions. All changes were acceptable to him, declared Fire Chief A. D. Stevenson.

Oil companies are already carrying out most of the provisions set forth in the ordinance as a matter of policy and for their own protection.

Proclamation

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women, an organization of more than 50,000 members, with 1300 clubs located in every state in the union, is a group which has devoted itself not only to the improvement of conditions of work for women but also to the education and encouragement of its members to seek more intensive training to fit themselves for their jobs. It carries on an active program in the assistance of youth in preparation for active business careers, by maintaining scholarships and loan funds for educational purposes. It has adopted a Ten-Year Objective for the improvement of the thinking of women along economical lines. It formed in 1930 an International Federation of Business and Professional Women, having now representatives in 21 European countries. It has affiliated with the National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War, working actively in behalf of World Peace. It has adopted a program looking towards the reinstatement of 10,000 "white collar" women in jobs at living wages as its contribution towards ending the depression. It is active in national and state programs for the general good. Local clubs take active interest in local problems and lend their aid to civic projects.

In view of the achievements of this group of citizens who are shouldering their share of the problems of life, I call on all citizens of Torrance to co-operate with the local club of Torrance in its celebration of National Business Women's Week, March 11-17.

SCOTT R. LUDLOW, Mayor of Torrance.

Bank of America has done much to promote thrift in California.

Through a continuous campaign of thrift education over a long period of years, Bank of America has encouraged sensible saving throughout California.

California was the whitest spot in the nation throughout the depression. Is it not reasonable to assume that this state-wide educational work on saving for the "rainy day" may have helped to maintain economic stability?
